

I Don't Understand

Paul N. Dion / Allen M. Dion

I don't understand the feelings that I have.
How they came to be,
Or what he means to me.
What am I to do?
Is there another way?

I did not wish for this. I did not pray for this.
Could not prepare for this.
Must I hide what's hidden in my heart
And never speak my thoughts?
Am I in love with this man?

I don't want to be the one who speaks their mind,
And then the door gets closed, with me left far behind.

If one does not try, one can never fly.
Unfair to make him choose.
There's much that we can lose.
Keep still or let it loose?
Not all lines are meant to be crossed,
Or are worth the cost.
But if I am in love with him...

I could learn to fly.
Take him by the hand.
Set free my heart.
Make him understand.

We could have it all.
May not have been the plan,
But now I know
That I love this man.
