

I Miss You

Paul N. Dion / Allen M. Dion

I miss you very much.

Please write and tell me that you miss me too.

I want to be of use and help you follow through, as only I can do.

I miss you.

I'll work behind the scenes.

I know I must step lightly.

I'll be the woman that stands beside the man.

So write me when you can.

And tell me your plan.

It's true.

I'm lonely without you.

But the whispers can still be heard.

The lines are getting blurred.

As the world is watching,

You're in my thoughts and in my heart.

The timing's not right, so for now, we must be apart.
