

The Debate

Paul N. Dion / Allen M. Dion

Who the hell does he think he is?

The conclave made a grave mistake.

What we need is a wartime pope, a man with a backbone, for God's sake.

CHORUS

What holiness needs is your loyalty.

Lend him your strength and understanding.

There's more than one way to win a war.

This pope must come to trust himself. If not, he can turn to you.

If you don't remind him of the price, his silence will cost the Jews.

CHORUS

What holiness needs is your loyalty.

He is the pope, but only one man,

Who can't fight alone against the odds.

He must support the allies and condemn the rest.

A silent pope is useless and does not pass the test.

You're the one to have his ear, and this much is clear.

So urge him to speak out and do it now.

I hear the debate throughout the sacred halls.

Holiness believes he should stay neutral,

And safe inside the papal walls.

CHORUS

Your voice must be heard,

And echo through the halls.

You fought hard to be here, so if you are worthy,

It falls to you alone to make this call.
